Today we live in a world where every day can be a struggle to survive the global rat race. Too often, the impact on family life, social relations, physical and emotional health and the environment has been devastating. Ill health, stress, strained relations with colleagues and family, environmental damage - peace of mind is just not easy to come by.

Unwholesome food production and unhealthy eating habits has led to poor health with crippling and deadly consequences.

Addictive pastimes like computer games and social media have taken over real-world family & social relationships.

Destructive land clearance has led to hazardous haze, deadly landslides, troublesome flash floods.

The inflationary spiral of rising prices for food, transport, housing and entertainment can be an unbearable burden.

Green Valley Wholistic Lifestyle Center is designed as an alternative to the debilitating merry-go-round of an unbalanced world system. We offer activities to integrate body, mind & spirit as a sound foundation for long-lasting happiness.

Family-oriented activities provide healthy outdoor fun for the entire family! Try your hand at organic farming, learn about permaculture, enjoy freshly-picked garden vegetables!

Environmental camps teach children and adults about the web of life that binds us all, and promote ecology, community and harmony for a better world.

Recharge yourself at Green Valley - where freshly purified air, falling water & lush greenery create an invigorating environment to re-energise body, mind & spirit!
